True Humility

Sometimes it is the simplest lessons that we tend to overlook the most. We teach these lessons to our children, but then we forget to apply them to ourselves. I want to share a devotional I have read that reminded me of one of those lessons:

The 2 most important words: "Thank you." The most important word: "We." The least important word: "I."

General Robert E. Lee...never stopped being a true southern gentleman. Once, while riding on a train to Richmond, he was seated at the rear of the car and all the other places were filled with officers and soldiers. An elderly woman, poorly dressed, boarded the coach at a rural station. Finding no seat offered to her, she trudged down the aisle toward the back of the car. Immediately, Lee stood up and offered her his place. One after another of the men then arose and offered the general his seat. "No, gentlemen," he replied. "if there is none for this lady, there can be none for me!"

Genuine humility is what prompts us to say a heartfelt thank-you and to favor others over ourselves.

(Taken from God's Little Devotional Book for Students)

"Don't act out of selfish ambition or be conceited. Instead, humbly think of others as being better than yourselves." – (Philippians 2:3 GOD'S WORD translation)

Love you all,

Stephen

SILVER FOR CHILDREN

We have cans available for the "Silver For Children" Potter Children's Home Gleaner Campaign. Pick yours up today and drop in your change in the new year.

The goal is to have the cans filled with silver coins and bills. They do, however, appreciate the pennies!

The target is $65.50 per can. This is a great way for a family to participate together in helping others by providing: Christian foster parents, educational fees, transportation, church activity costs, and allowances for children. See www.potterministries.org for more information.

NO NEWSLETTER

Due to the holidays, there will be no newsletter sent out next week on Tuesday, December 24.
